SIDEWALK WORK WELL STARTED

Progressive Movement Expected to Continue the Length of Baldwin Ave.

Sidewalk construction work, often pointed out by the News as one of the greatest needs of Sierra Madre, has made a substantial beginning on north Baldwin avenue, during the past fortnight. Rec. Stanbury and Dr. G. W. Groth started the work in front of their places.

Agitation for continuation of the work on Baldwin has been carried on by a committee consisting of Secretary Floyd of the Chamber of Commerce, Dean Shaw and R. B. Wilson. It is understood the work is to be built as far as the north line of the Episcopal Church property.

Completion of the amount of sidewalk indicated will make a majority of the frontage, with walks already built. In that case the city trustees will have power to adopt an ordinance requiring the sidewalking of the entire street, against which no protest would avail. It is expected, however, that once the fashion is started, those streets which are not sidewalked will appear so shabby by comparison that there will be a rush to get in line.

CHILDREN GAIN; FINANCES LOSE

P.-T. A. Needs Help to Keep the School Cafeteria Doing
Its Good Work

"Only the children are gaining—the financial end is losing," was the substance of the report on the public school cafeteria enterprise at the Wednesday meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association. The report was presented by Mrs. H. E. Allen. The good results secured in improved health and weight for the children seemed to all to justify a special appeal for support for the entertainment to be given by the Marion Ward Players to raise funds.

Attendance at the meeting was large and enthusiastic. The president, Mrs. Fred Griebenow, presided. Mrs. C. C. Bodine, chairman of the membership committee reported 170 names on the roll. The program included songs by Mrs. Irene Gay, and two compositions of Mrs. L. E. Lyon, played by herself.

Miss Stone, director of music in the Los Angeles schools, gave a splendid talk on the value of good music in daily life. She showed convincingly

Prof. and Mrs. L. S. Ham returned every child as a means of spiritual development.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Evans of 210 N. Adams are rejoicing in the birth of a son who arrived Tuesday morning, January 16.

PUBLISHED EVERY WEEK AT SIERRA MADRE, LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CALIFORNIA

Vote for the Park Bonds and Progress

By Major C. S. Floyd, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce

"Keep moving!" Some towns are known to be avoided by the hobo world because their constables are on the job and keep undesirables moving. Sierra Madre is another type of "keep moving" town, we keep desirable prospective settlers moving by not providing facilities whereby they may tarry a while and enjoy our beautiful city. People hearing of our favored location come to look it over with a prospect of locating here. They like our town but can not stop to rest and enjoy our air and view. They must keep moving.

The way to remedy this matter is to vote "YES" on January 30th, and give us a park now, not ten or twenty years from the present time. It is an urgent need and we must have a park for our own convenience and to insure that Sierra Madre will develop more rapidly along the lines it is destined to do.

The proposed bond issue is necessary for the proper development of the part and to make it available at the earliest practicable date. Some say that it is not necessary to develop the park at once, secure the property first and then develop it gradually from year to year. If the development is gradual and under bond issues the cost will be the same, if not more, than providing for the immediate development. If the bond issue were only for the purchase of the land with a small amount added the improvements made in succeeding years by direct taxation, the cost to the individual taxpayer would be more per year during the development period than under the proposed bond issue. The main difference would be that we would not have a completed park for five or ten years and we would pay during the development period when there would not be a satisfactory park. And those who locate here after the development period would reap the benefits and not participate in the cost.

The proposed bond issue spreads the cost over a period of forty years and all who enjoy the advantages of the park in that time pay their share of the development of these advantages.

The present bonding capacity of the city is $345,543 and the present bonded indebtedness is $218,500, leaving a margin of over $127,000. It is estimated that the bonding capacity of the city will increase about $50,000 with the coming assessment, from which it will be seen that the present proposed bond issue will not cut into the bonding capacity of the city to any serious extent. Our bonding capacity will be greater next year than this, and we will have a park in addition.

With the growth of Sierra Madre and the increasing property values it is a question of whether we have a centrally located park on a main thoroughfare now or never.

Vote "YES" on January 30th.

MASONS INSTALL NEW OFFICIALS

Past Grand Master Burke Acts as Installing Officer and Makes Address

Impressive ritual ceremonies and delightful social features marked the annual installation of officers of Sierra Madre Lodge, F. & A. M., Tuesday night. Dr. Samuel Edgerton Burke of Los Angeles, Past Grand Master, officiated as installing officer with an impressive manner seldom equaled. District Inspector L. L. Test of Pasadena acted as master of ceremonies.

Wonderfully impressive also was the address delivered by Dr. Burke. To the members of the order it was a new inspiration to make vital in practice the teachings of the fraternity. To their guests it meant in new conception of the character of the order and its ritual work.

Brief remarks were also made by C. W. Jones, the retiring master who presided over the social features of the program, by inspector Test, and by some of the incoming officers. On behalf of the lodge, D. C. Ashmore presented a beautiful past master's ring to Mr. Jones, happily expressing their appreciation for his efficient work during the past year.

Following the ceremonies in the lodge room, the company enjoyed dancing and refreshments in the club house parlors and auditorium.

The lodge officers for 1923 are as follows:

George B. Morgridge.....Master
Ernest L. Yerxa.....Senior Warden
Donald C. Ashmore.....Junior Warden
William J. Lawless, P. M.....Treasurer
Charles F. Vannier.....Secretary
Wilbur S. Hull.....Chaplain
Harold E. Allen.....Senior Deacon
James N. Hawks.....Junior Deacon
Raymond D. Andrews.....Marshal
Convers L. Twycross.....Senior Steward
Harold H. McMillan.....Junior Steward
Ernest Green.....Organist
Carlton J. Pegler, P. M.....Tyler

J. E. KOCH DEAD IN LOS ANGELES FIRE

J. E. Koch, formerly a resident of Ramona avenue, met death in a fire in Barker Bros. warehouse in the Los Angeles wholesale district Wednesday night. Koch was watchman there. After the fire his dead body was found on the fourth floor of the building. It is supposed he was trapped by the flames and suffocated by smoke. He is survived by a wife and son. Since leaving Sierra Madre the family have lived in Glendale.

SOCIAL SESSION OF EASTERN STARS

Members of the Order of Eastern Star and a number of guests enjoyed a social hour following a brief business meeting of the local chapter Monday evening. Progressive games were played, the sport including a number of old time children's games as well as 500 and bridge. Following the games, cake and coffee were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shapiro of 170 North Adams are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a daughter, born Monday, January 15th.

Splendid Parish House Dedicated by the Bishop

On Wednesday evening, January 17, the Rt. Rev'd. W. Bertram Stevens, D. D. Co-adjutor Bishop of the Diocese paid his annual visitation to the Church of the Ascension and administered the apostolic rite of confirmation to the class of boys and girls recently prepared by the rector.

The music was furnished by the full vested choir and consisted of choral even-song. The sermon was preached by the bishop in a strong appeal for the development and exercise of character.

Immediately after even-song the entire congregation adjourned to the new parish house for the exercises of dedication. This was done by the bishop in a few simple prayers, after which he made a brief address setting forth the purposes and possibilities of the structure.

The dedication of the new parish house was an event in the life of the parish which has been long contemplated. For two years or more very strenuous efforts have been put forth to make it an accomplished fact, and the whole parish was present to witness this happy event.

Model Establishment

The house is regarded as a model of its kind and will no doubt set the standard for future parish houses throughout the diocese. Bishop Stevens was unusually pleased and impressed with the new building and extended hearty congratulations on such an achievement. The house consists of a large auditorium which has a seating capacity of between three and four hundred. This room will be used for meetings of various kinds and the usual activities of the parochial life. There is also a large and handsome guild room which will be used exclusively by the various guild organizations of the parish.

That which perhaps made the strongest appeal to the ladies is the large and fully equipped kitchen, perfect and complete in every detail. In addition to this is a spacious store-room adjacent to the kitchen.

Besides these rooms there is a study for the rector, a balcony room as a card room and also a place for a moving picture machine. There are also the usual lavatories, office room and cloak rooms.

Underneath the building is a large basement room which as yet has not been fully completed, but will be in time and set apart exclusively as a club room for the men and their friends.

Extensive Improvements

There are also other alterations and improvements about the entire property. There is at present under construction, a retaining wall on the south side of the church extending full length along Laurel avenue. It is also proposed to lay a cement sidewalk together with curbs and gutter not only on Laurel avenue, but also on Baldwin. It is a happy omen, that these street improvements will not alone be confined to the church property, but will be extended throughout the entire length of both these avenues. The parish is only leading the way to these permanent improvements.

Plans are also being considered for the erection of a new rectory adjacent to the new parish house. When all these improvements are completed the Church of the Ascension will be one of the best equipped parishes in the diocese and also a great credit to Sierra Madre.

ANOTHER HOLD-UP ON VILLA ROAD

M. F. Williams of Sierra Madre was the victim of one of the Friday night holdups which were common last year on Villa road and which seem to be reviving. As he was driving down hill with a friend and slowed up for the P. E. crossing, a masked man stepped on the running board. Blinding Williams with a flashlight and covering him with a gun, he examined his companion's hands for rings and then ordered Williams out of the car. Fortunately the latter had neither jewelry nor money except a few cents in change which the thug took. After searching the car for weapons he ordered Williams to get in and drive on. He worked like an expert, never letting the flashlight out of his victim's eyes nor giving an opportunity for a good view of his face.

Woman's Club guest tickets will not be accepted for admission to the Manning recital next Monday night, the statement to the contrary in the club notes on another page being an error in the copy brought to the News. The club correspondent advises that a uniform charge of $1 will be made for all but members of the club.

COLLEGE CULTIVATES CLOSER RELATIONS

Rev. James Hoffman Batten, representing the regional service of Pomona College, was a Sierra Madre visitor on Thursday. He is heading a new department of college activity which is designed to cultivate a closer relationship between the college and its Southern California constituency. The college is not seeking new students, being unable to accommodate more than half of those who apply for admission each year. It is the desire of President Blaisdell to have the public know more about the institution, the work it does, and the ways in which it can render service to the public. Mr. Batten recently retired from the pastorate of the Congregational Church at Santa Barbara to undertake this work. He has been active in ministerial and chautauqua work in the East and Middle West for many years.

Lester S. Schrader, formerly Pacific Coast manager for the Sonora Phonograph Co., has associated himself with the music firm of A. F. Tanner & Co., of Monrovia. He will have charge of outside sales for the entire San Gabriel Valley, specializing in pianos and Cheney talking machines.

Peace in Sight In the Contest On Sanitariums

Amicable settlement of the sanitarium controversy and avoidance of hostilities seems foreshadowed by the announcement of the promoters of the Snyder Sanitarium enterprise that they are looking for another site than the Ragsdale property which they recently bought for the purpose.

"We want the good will of the people of Sierra Madre," said George Anderson, business manager of the concern yesterday. "We do not want to locate the sanitarium where it will incur hostility. If we can find a suitable location outside the restricted district we believe we can build and operate an institution of which the community will be proud."

"Of course we realize that when it is announced we are looking for another site, we may be subject to some price boosting on the part of property owners. We have been compelled to pass up one piece of property for that reason. We have several others under consideration and hope to find a location to which there will be no objection."

If Mr. Anderson, Dr. Snyder and their associates succeed in finding a suitable site for their purpose it will make it unnecessary to attack the validity of the old ordinance restricting sanitariums as was previously announced they would do. In the meantime, recommendations for the new zoning ordinance are expected soon from Mr. Whitnall. If it is adopted by the trustees the future as well as the present situation will be provided for.

PRIZE WINNERS TO BE POSTED

The unexpected amount of labor involved in checking all the lists of answers in the News "What's Wrong" puzzle contest has made it impossible to announce the winners in this issue. As soon as the results are known the winners will be notified and the list will be posted in the New office window. It will also be published in next week's News. The judges are Major C. S. Floyd, Dr. Gilbert S. Bovard and P. J. Grevillot. The master list of correct answers was received from the artist by registered mail, taken from the post office in the presence of one of the judges and delivered to him after the close of the contest, so there could be no possibility of advance information on the list.

RIVERSIDE EXPERIMENT STATION INTERESTING

Carlton J. Pegler and A. M. Udell enjoyed a week trip to Palm Springs, where they visited Bill Hoover's ranch. On their return they stopped Sunday night at Riverside. On Monday they visited the citrus experiment station where Mr. Pegler attended a meeting of citrus growers representing associations from all over Southern California. They also had an opportunity to inspect the work of the experiment station and observe the proven results of various methods of fertilization, irrigation and other orchard treatment.

At Arlington Messrs. Pegler and Udell visited S. T. DePencier, a resident of Sierra Madre for many years. Mr. DePencier has been in very poor health for some years, but is reported to have improved somewhat during the past year.

WILSON BUYS BELLA VISTA

R. D. Wilson of 162 East Alegria has purchased Bella Vista Terrace from D. J. Reed. The deal which is now in escrow is one of the most important realty transactions in many months.

Bella Vista Terrace which was built several years ago by F. B. Lewis, has been a landmark by reason of its novel architecture and the landscaping of the court which is faced on two sides by the seven semi-detached bungalows. Mr. Wilson expects to continue the building by erecting three more bungalows along the east side of the court.

The new owner says he expects to make rental terms which will be attractive to desirable permanent tenants, preferring this class of occupants to a more transient class of guests at higher rates. He also has some interesting plans in view for the use of the tennis court adjoining the court on the east which belongs to the property. Announcement of this will be made later.

Mrs. B. B. Mann gave a luncheon at her home in San Pedro on Sunday to Mrs. Frank Hart and sons and houseguests. Later in the afternoon the party were entertained at tea on board the U. S. S. Oklahoma. Mrs. Vanzell of Chicago, a guest in Pasadena, gave a luncheon and matinee party at the Raymond on Wednesday for Mrs. Hart and her guests.

WORK IN FIRST DEGREE TUESDAY

Work in the first degree will be the order of the evening at the meeting of the Masonic Lodge next Tuesday. This will be the first regular meeting under the newly installed officers and a full attendance is desired.

Through the agency of Dr. D. N. Alcorn the Howard Hill residence at 251 W. Montecito was sold this week to Mrs. Ella M. Raymond and Mrs. Carrie A. Fairbanks of Dorchester, Mass., a suburb of Boston. Mrs. Fairbanks and Mrs. Raymond spent some time in Sierra Madre several years ago and will make their home here as soon as they can complete arrangements. They are at present living in Los Angeles.

CITRUS PRUNING MEETING IN FEB.

Announcement is just received from Farm Advisor Hodgson to the effect that the major activity of the Agricultural Extension Service with respect to citrus pruning during the month of February will be a comprehensive series of field meetings at which pruning will be the main subject discussed. The pruning of frost injured trees will be gone into in detail as well as pruning of trees not injured by frost. The results of the past season's studies and observations will be presented to the growers and general recommendations offered for pruning treatment with respect to all varieties. The meetings will be held under the joint auspices of the Citrus Growers Department of the Farm Bureau and the various local Farm Bureau centers. The complete schedule will be announced in the near future.

CANADIANS TO HOLD MONSTER REUNION

The Canadian tourists have set Saturday, February 3rd, as the date of their eighth annual winter picnic, and the place will be at the Palisades park, Santa Monica, Calif. As the park adjoins the Loeffl Pier and beach sands, a wonderful program has been arranged. This is the regular official reunion of the Canadian Tourists' Association, and the affair will be sponsored by the Council and Chamber of Commerce of Santa Monica, which have appointed a citizens welcoming committee. There are to be free rides and shows, real Spanish barbecue, souvenir badges and free coffee, free parking, free dancing, athletic sports and games for valuable prizes, two bands, and an orchestra, fireworks, carnival ball in the evening, international speakers, registers from every province and city in the dominion.

MENTAL TESTS

There has been some depression in scholastic minds because the mental tests of about 1,700,000 men and officers of our late army showed that the great majority failed to rate up to the standard set for fifteen-year-old boys. Indeed a very large number failed to measure up to ten-year-old children, according to the tests. According to this, then, our army which Americans fondly believed, and continue to believe, was equal to any, was made up of near-incompetents in large part. Still most people agree that these young men were all right before and since the war and were superb in action.

Now comes Professor H. Addington Bruce, a psychologist of note, in the Century Magazine, declaring that, in his opinion, the tests do not really show very much or very correctly and he backs his views with quotations from other authorities. It may be, speaking with due reserve, that these catch-as-catch-can, now you see it, now you don't, heads I win, tails you lose, puzzles may be a lot less valuable than has been claimed for them.

Dr. F. N. Freeman of Chicago University thinks that the tests determine brightness but not intelligence. They do not measure perseverance, honesty, courage and such qualities. They do not measure initiative or energy either. Nor love of home, devotion to duty, nor love of country.

In fact these tests have not been sufficiently tested. They should be tested on the psychologists themselves. Moreover, a class of about one hundred statesmen should be assembled on some pretext and the tests suddenly be applied to them. President Harding and his cabinet would be there, and Mr. Wilson and such of his cabinet as could be assembled. So should Chief Justice Taft and his associates, together with a large group of senators and representatives of all parties. A delegation of labor leaders should be along. What would the test show? One has some fear. Let us draw the veil. If this be treason, make the most of it.

At any rate the expert psychologists are disputing about them. Professor S. S. Colvin of Brown University thinks that the tests under mechanical conditions of application are of little value and indeed may be "positively harmful." What a pity it is! How often it happens that "facts finally determined" by the best authorities do not square with everyday experience. The tests may have a value, may, as it were, give a lead, but that is all. — Hemet News.

REAL SCOUT TROOP AT A SANITARIUM

One hundred scouts at the Westfield, Mass., Sanitarium for Tuberculosis compose Troop 4, which has the distinction of functioning as a troop twenty-four hours a day, the boys eating, sleeping, working and playing together as a unit. These lads march to their meals, on patriotic occasions they carry the flag to the sound of music. They go to school a few hours each day, but the greater part of their time is consumed in out-of-door activities in which Scoutercraft plays a vital and most interesting part. The troop sleeps in the open in a shelter especially made for the boys by the men patients.

As to the Twelfth Law, "A Scout is Reverent." These boys say their prayers in common morning and night. The boys kneel together and remain kneeling until each group Protestant, Catholic and Jew have recited their devotions. Three chaplains, representing the three faiths mentioned, are in attendance at the sanitarium.

As to the Eighth Law, "A Scout is cheerful; he smiles whenever he can," these boys have become famous in the institution for their pluck and spirit of happiness. In the words of one of the chaplains, "Practically every child at the sanitarium is cured, but we have had two deaths within the past few months. Both boys who died were members of Troop 4, and to the end each played his part 'every inch a scout'. Their cheerfulness throughout their illness was so marked that the other patients would come in not only to visit the boys, but to bolster up their own grit and courage."

The boys have built a dam on the grounds to bank water up in a swimming pool. Only a few of the stronger boys, however, are allowed to undertake swimming. In basketry, Troop 4 is extremely skillful. In 1921 at the Eastern States Exposition, the boys received a blue ribbon in recognition of the excellence of their work. The scouts' good turns are often manifested in their thoughtfulness for one another. For instance these boys are much devoted to papers containing scout news. When such papers arrive, the scouts make a grand rush for this section, but the boys always pass it first to any one of their number who happens that day to be confined to bed. A passerby can see the boys eagerly going over the items, and hear such a remark as "Look here! See what these fellows are doing!"

"Although these boys can never become first-class scouts in actual rank," continues the chaplain, "for the rules of the doctor forbid their taking hikes or attempting scouts' pace etc., in true scout spirit they can reach the top. In their work, the boys like to keep in mind this thought on how to play the game:

'For when the One Great Scorer comes
To write against your name;
He'll write not what you've lost or won
But how you played the game.'

WHO MUST FILE TAX STATEMENTS

Collector Goodcell Tells About the Requirements of the Income Tax Returns

Collector of Internal Revenue Rex Goodcell is mailing to 190,000 taxpayers in the Southern California district who made similar returns for the year 1921 Form 1040 A, for filing individual income returns of $5,000 or less for the year 1922, and in the statement made yesterday he outlined to taxpayers the proper way to make returns, pointing out various changes in the income tax laws. The filing period is from January 1 to March 15, 1923.

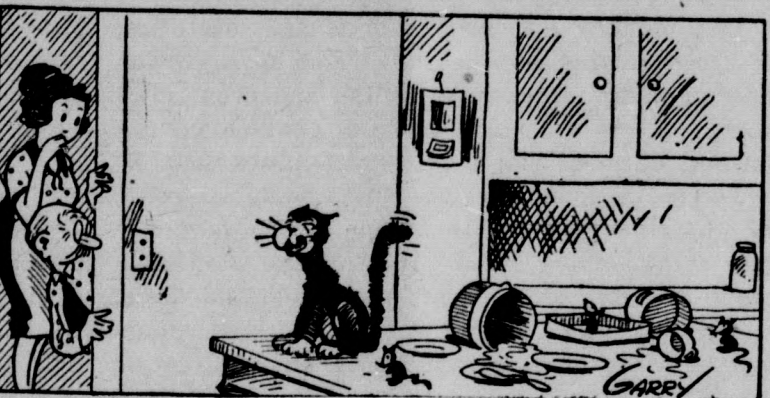

Taxpayers are advised by Collector Goodcell to study carefully the instructions on the forms, especially those with regard to credits for personal exemptions and dependents. Married persons required to make a return on form 1040 A, those whose net income was $5,000 or less, are allowed an exemption of $2,500. The exemption for married persons whose net income was in excess of $5,000 is $2,000. The exemption for single persons is $1,000. Also, whether married or single, the taxpayer is allowed a credit of $400 for each person dependent upon him for chief support, if such person is under eighteen years of age or incapable of self support because of being mentally or physically defective.

Collector Goodcell said it should be remembered that the requirement to file a return is placed upon every married person whose net income for 1922 was $2,000 or more or whose gross income was $5,000 or more, and upon every single person whose net income was $1,000 or more, or whose gross income was $5,000 or more. The fact that by reason of exemptions and credits, a person's income is not taxable, does not nullify the requirement to file a return if the income equals or exceeds these specified amounts.

The taxpayer's status on the last day of the taxable year—December 31, 1922, if made on the calendar year basis—determines the amount of

BY THE WAY

Appreciation

Does your community fail to appreciate you? Then give yourself the once over. What is there about you for the community to appreciate? Your service to the community is lacking somewhere—it is not real, it is not sincere, or it is not intelligent.

Perhaps long familiarity has caused you to lose respect for the individuals about you. You have grown into the habit of magnifying their faults—and even talking about them. If you will stand aside and watch yourself go by you may discover you have some frailties yourself.

The people about you are not perfect, but you have cast your lot among them, to do business with them and to make your living among them. It would be useless to pull up stakes and go elsewhere, for you would find the same sort of frail folk there. Let the faults of those about you be covered with the same mantle of charity you would like spread over your own. Then put on a grin, talk about the good qualities you see in your townsmen, and pretty soon you will find you are doing business with the finest lot of people you ever saw.

Large and Small

Perhaps you read in flaring headlines a few weeks ago that some San Francisco attorney had started court proceedings to wreck the Wright Law in court. He was going to prove it unconstitutional on a lot of different grounds. It was a test case brought by the California Protective Association which has fought every step in the advancement of temperance and prohibition. The newspapers played the story in large type. But you probably did not read the sequel last week because it was buried inconspicuously in small type. The Supreme Court unanimously upheld the constitutionality of the Wright Act. It decreed as proper the adoption of the Volstead Act by the state. It further said it was of no concern to the prisoner whether the fine assessed under the act went to the state or federal government.

Most community problems can be settled on a good will basis. Time, patience and perseverance will accomplish wonders, especially if the supply of good humor holds out as a lubricant. Don't get mad and begin to call people names every time something happens that doesn't suit you, or because something isn't done that you think ought to be done. The arm that swings a club on little things is apt to be too tired to be effective when the club is needed for big things. Cultivation of good will is apt to make the club unnecessary anyway.

Figuring the income tax payable on the reported salaries of screen stars is a favorite indoor sport these days. It should be remembered that on the portion of the salary which is paid in stage money, the tax is payable in the same medium.

"Blessed is the man that taketh himself seriously, for he shall cause much amusement." That inscription which adorned the walls of the editorial room of the old Los Angeles Herald is worthy of serious, very serious thought.

Farm Bureau; What It Is and What It Does

In a sense the name farm bureau is rather unfortunate for the organization which is now universally known by that name as it does not express to any degree the character of the organization or its purposes. There are still many who, despite the wonderful growth of the farm bureau movement in recent years do not wholly understand exactly the nature and character of this new organization.

A county farm bureau is a group of public spirited, progressive farmers who desire to co-operate with their state college of agriculture, the federal department of agriculture and among themselves, in the promotion of the agricultural interests of their county.

If the farmers of any county desire the services of a trained expert representing both the state college of agriculture and the federal department of agriculture, it is necessary for them to organize a farm bureau. The farm bureau therefore, becomes the semi-official, co-operating agency, through which the agricultural interests of any county may be served by the state college and the United States Department of Agriculture.

Such service is made possible to the farmers of the United States through the Smith-Lever Act, passed by Congress in 1913, and made effective in 1914. This act appropriates federal funds to the various states in the proportion that the rural population of the several states bears to the total rural population of the United States, as determined by the last census. In order to take advantage of the act, it is necessary for the states to match the federal funds. The administration of the act in the various states is vested in the colleges of agriculture, and is handled by the directors of agricultural extension.

In the passage of the Smith-Lever Act, the federal government completed the three necessary sides to the complete triangle of agricultural education in the universities and colleges of the United States. The first of these was the Land-Grant Agricultural College Act of 1862, which provided for the establishment of colleges of agriculture in the several states; the second was the Hatch Act of 1887, which provided for the establishment of agricultural experiment stations, in connection with the various colleges of agriculture, for the special purpose of investigation; the third and last was the Smith-Lever Act above referred to, which provided for co-operative extension work in agriculture in every agricultural county in the United States, where such service is desired on the part of the farming interests.

WANTS TO EXCLUDE ALL T. B. SANITARIUMS

To My Fellow Citizens:

We have not yet stopped the tubercular sanitarium. I heard their attorney say on January 11, that the ordinance of our city council probably will not stand. In substance, that our ordinances are of no account.

In my opinion a nest of such sanitariums within our corporate limits, will forever seriously injure the home qualities of four thousand acres of land, well adapted for those who have regained their health. Further back in the drier air it is better for the sick ones. If a nest of sanitariums of this nature are to come here, half of my life's work is ruined beyond recovery.

Fortunately I have secured a copy of the ordinance now in force at Colorado Springs that they have not yet trampled upon. It reads as follows:

Sec. 1022—Hospitals for exclusive treatment of tuberculosis, etc., prohibited. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to build, erect, establish, or maintain any hospital, sanitarium, or similar place or institution for the exclusive care or treatment of persons having tuberculosis of the lungs or respiratory tract, or persons having any other contagious disease, within the corporate limits of the City of Colorado Springs.

Sec. 1023—Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall, on conviction, be fined in any sum not exceeding three hundred dollars: Each day that any of the institutions herein prohibited, are maintained or kept open for the reception of patients, shall be separate offenses, and shall be punished accordingly.

K. O. rd No. 813. Passed July 1, 1910.

This ordinance has kept them out of Colorado Springs, Colorado—the nearest one is two and a half miles away, and another one seven miles. I beg your help to keep hospitals and sanitariums for treatment of tubercular and other contagious diseases outside the corporate limits of Sierra Madre.

Respectfully,
E. WALDO WARD.

BANQUETERS TO BE FED ON ALFALFA

Sierra Madre will be well represented by members of the Chamber of Commerce at the first "alfalfa banquet" in history, so far as is known, which will be held at the Hotel Vista del Arroyo, Pasadena, on January 23. At this banquet, which will be informal, alfalfa products will hold the featured place on the menu, including such dishes as alfalfa salad, alfalfa muffins, alfalfa cake, ice cream and alfalfa tea.

City officials, members of the chambers of commerce and prominent clubwomen will attend and will be numbered among the speakers. James W. Foley, well-known humorist and poet, will be toastmaster. The banquet is to be given by the California Alfalfa Products company, a Pasadena concern, which is marketing a tea, a soda fountain drink, candy and tablets, all derived from the extract of alfalfa. The company is about to start a nationwide advertising campaign which will bring much desirable publicity to Southern California.

Alfalfa, which was first discovered in Persia several hundred years before the birth of Christ, has always been the most desirable food for many animals. Due to a bitter taste, it has never been used by humans. It remained for F. W. Bower, a Pasadena man, to discover a process to remove the objectionable taste, and to incorporate the health-giving extract from alfalfa in a variety of food and drink products. Mr. Bower is the father of Allan Bower, who has been a resident of Sierra Madre for a year or two.

WOMAN'S CLUB NEWS

By Press Chairman, Mrs. Besse Palmer Rhodes.

Evening Program

It having been decided to make the club meeting of January 22 an evening meeting, allowing the public the privilege of attending, those in charge are desirous that the club house be filled. This action was taken because of the popularity of the performing artist, Kathleen Lockhart Manning. She has for several years been a resident of Sierra Madre. Having been interested in music since she was a very young girl, Mrs. Manning has had every opportunity to improve her wonderful voice. She studied in Paris and London, where her work in grand opera received unusual recognition. Blessed also with a charming personality, Mrs. Manning's recitals are always refreshingly homey affairs and her evenings a joy throughout. Club members will be admitted free, and guest tickets may be used. A charge of $1.00 plus a 10 cent tax has been fixed for non-members. Tickets may be secured from any club member.

KEEPING YOUNG

WHEN you are 89 years old, do you think you will still be active enough to be a traveling salesman, working eight hours a day?

That's what B. C. Ball is doing, at 89. He is an active book salesman, covering Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. He is out on the road the year-round, except five weeks at Christmas time, which he spends at his home in Indianapolis.

Ball is the father of 14 children. He has been a traveling salesman for 70 years, but is not yet thinking of retiring.

Old age comes only too soon, to most of us. Ball, however, says it is easy to "keep young." Here is his formula:

"Keep the mind young and the body will stay young, barring the development of maladies to which all flesh is heir. I'm an old man, but I do not let it worry me. If I did, I'd be in a wheel chair, wearing a nightcap. Too many men start aging at 40. They start kidding themselves that they are old. They dodge strenuous recreation on the grounds that they are old, and in a short time they ARE old."

The more we talk to cheerful old people, like Mr. Ball, the more it becomes apparent that youth of the spirit and mind is what counts, rather than youth of the body.

Inevitably our bodies wear out, just as leaves fall from the trees in autumn. One is less spry as the years slip by, and weights become heavier to lift and distances longer to walk.

But if we think young thoughts and keep in touch with the young folks, old age never will come to us mentally and spiritually. Old age, like youth, is largely a state of mind.

BLACK MAGIC

ELECTRICITY, generated at Niagara Falls, eventually will be sent through the air by wireless to cities and farms hundreds of miles away.

This is predicted by Dr. E. F. W. Alexanderson, chief engineer of the Radio Corporation.

The possibilities of such a development are amazing.

Fuel experts are beginning to agree that the solution of the coal problem is to burn the coal at the mines, using the heat to produce steam, which in turn would operate engines attached to huge dynamos. The electric current, thus generated, would be sent to far-off points to furnish light, heat and power for a country on an electric basis. It would save costly transportation in coal cars.

Scientists are working out methods by which high-tension current can be sent great distances. It is not improbable that the transmission will be by radio before the perfection of devices for sending the current through wires. At present a high-tension current can be sent only a limited distance, though Steinmetz in recent months has sent a terrifically powerful current 1000 miles, experimentally.

Picture the future, with the farm and home equipped with switches which, turned on, would pluck out of the air the heat, light and power sent by radio from 1000 or more miles away.

In the old days, that would have been called witchcraft, Black Magic. Yet, today, it sounds plausible, even probable. The old-time alchemists and witches, in their wild dreams, never imagined anything a tenth as wonderful as the actual scientific accomplishments of the generation in which we live.

MURCHISON INCIDENT

George Osboodby died the other day at Pasadena, and his demise recalls a political incident of the presidential campaign of 1888 which undoubtedly defeated Grover Cleveland for re-election to the presidency.

The famous "Murchison letter" was written by Osboodby, and the unfortunate answer by Lord Sackville West, British minister at Washington, alienated the heavy Irish vote at that time conceded to the Democratic party.

The name of Murchison was assumed, and under that cognomen Osboodby wrote to Lord Sackville asking his opinion as to whom newly-naturalized British subjects should support for president. The British minister, thinking it a personal inquiry from a loyal English friend, and having a high regard for President Cleveland, advised "Murchison" to vote for Cleveland. On receipt of the letter at Pomona, then the residence of Osboodby, who was an editorial writer on a local paper, its contents were telegraphed to Harrison Gray Otis of the Los Angeles Times, and the next morning Sackville West's unfortunate letter was printed in all of the Republican newspapers of the country, creating consternation among the Democrats and precipitating an international embroglio resulting in the retirement of the British minister.

California went for Harrison by a few hundred votes. As a matter of fact two of the Democratic electors were victorious. In New York the plurality for Harrison was so small that there is no question but that the Murchison incident was responsible for the loss to the Democrats of the Empire state, and this meant the loss of the presidency.

The Murchison letter was a sequel to the Burchard "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion" incident in the campaign of 1884, when Blaine lost the presidency by the narrow adverse plurality of 1245 in New York state.—Hemet News.

ONE BRAND OF PUBLIC OWNERSHIP

Real Public Ownership of public-service corporations, says the Mining and Oil Bulletin for January, should consist of investment by the public in such corporations. With reasonable government regulation there need be no fear of stock-jobbing—and if the regulation becomes unreasonable, the shareholders, (the public), exercise their suffrage rights and put in a new set of regulators.

This method places the cost of "public ownership" upon those willing to bear the burden—and does not force it upon all taxpayers; the investor realizes the nominal return upon his investment; the general public, through reasonable regulation, gets service at a fair cost—and no opportunity is accorded the politician to dabble with more public funds, nor to sustain a self-perpetuating machine.

HOW STATE WILL HANDLE AUTO REGISTRATIONS

Will H. Marsh, chief of the Division of Motor Vehicles, announces an extension of service to the motorists of the Southern end of the state through the co-operation of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

This year an assignment of 100,000 automobile plates will be made to that organization, to be handled through their main office in Los Angeles. The Southern Club is now busily engaged in collecting from its Los Angeles membership and the membership located at all of its branch cities, 1922 certificate of registration and checks covering the renewal amount for the 1923 registration.

Plates will be issued from the Los Angeles office of the club on and after February 1. Receipts will be issued to each member upon the payment of their fee. This receipt to be carried in the container of the applicant for registration in lieu of the regular certificate of registration. This innovation is designed to relieve the congestion which has heretofore existed during the renewal period in the Los Angeles office of the Division of Motor Vehicles.

It is planned to confine all of the branch offices of the Motor Vehicle Division to strictly counter business. Large blocks of registrations accepted by the branches of the department at Los Angeles, San Diego, Oakland, San Francisco and Fresno will be forwarded to the main office at Sacramento, which is to be developed into a factory, organized for the express purpose of handling mail registrations.

Past experiences of the department have proven that registrations can be made in the Sacramento office by mail at a cost of one-third to one-half less than they can be made at the branch offices.

The chief of the division further announces that any resident of any city in which a branch is established, should they not desire to stand in line in making their renewal, may forward their certificate and check to the Sacramento office and their registration will be mailed direct. Applications will not be received at the Sacramento counter until February 1.

LIVESTOCK MEN TO MEET FEBRUARY 1

Scattered drought, low markets and various other hardships are among the experiences that will be heard in Los Angeles January 30 to February 1.

But mortgages and worries will not prevent the delegates to the American National Livestock Association from having a good time when they meet during that period in annual convention.

With Union Stockyards as the headquarters, plans virtually have been completed for the gathering, which will include 500 accredited delegates and several times that number of stockmen and their families.

Among those who will attend the convention are representatives of the national forestry bureau, the department of agriculture and a number of railroads.

A number of matters constructive in character and which are expected to have an important bearing on the future of the livestock industry are on the programs for discussion.

Local cattlemen say the industry is looking forward to better times, as a steady upward trend in prices is observed.

Urgent Demand for Sidewalks

Sierra Madre, Calif., Jan. 15, 1923
Editor Sierra Madre News,
Dear Sir:—I see by your paper the City Fathers are going to ask us to vote a bond of thirty thousand dollars on our corporation for the purpose of buying and improving a community park. Well, parks are very nice things to have and I would be very glad to vote for it and encourage others to do so as far as my influence would go, were it not that I am satisfied a great deal more could be done towards beautifying, improving and making our city safer and more desirable to live in with very much less money, by procuring better sidewalks and guarding pedestrians from stumbling into our deep gutters.

A park only improves one section of the city, whereas sidewalks improve and benefit the most remote part of the city. A stranger cannot even approach the city without observing and being impressed with the condition of the streets and walks. We may have a beautiful park in some part of the city and hundreds of visitors come in, pass through, go away or "hide a wee" without even knowing we have such a playground, unless some interested person calls their attention and take them to see it.

A park is a luxury, a sidewalk is a necessity, and the condition our city is in at the present time, it is a great wonder the city has not been called upon to defend itself against more than one suit for personal damages. During the rainy season the water digs gullies out of the dirt walks and leaves them in a very bad condition to walk on in the dark or in the shadow of the great shade trees, especially on the side hills. And to prevent that, some people place little dams across the walk, which acts as a stumbling block in the darkness.

In the two and a half short years I have lived in Sierra Madre I have walked into one of those deep sewers three times and although I escaped broken bones I am carrying scars and swollen joints to this day. Some of our good pious friends tell me it was only through the kind providence of God that my life was spared. I do not agree with them—my life was not worth that supreme effort. But I am not the only one that has had that experience. My good neighbor, Mr. Webster, tells me he had the same experience and was laid up for some time on account of it.

America's Most Beautiful Women, Picked by a Well-Known Illustrator

ASKED to name America's twelve most beautiful women, Neyaa McMein, the Illustrator, made a selection including the five shown here. From left to right they are: Lady Ribblesdale, formerly Mrs. John Jacob Astor; Mrs. Lydig Hoyt, New York society leader, "Dolores," formerly of the Follies; Mary Pickford, movie star and Irene Castle, the dancer. Oh yes, of course somebody is going to raise the point that they're not all, strictly speaking, American. They were named for places in the gallery, nevertheless.

I was very much surprised that some one did not reply to my former letter on this subject addressed to the Chamber of Commerce. I wanted to get the sentiment of the people, but it seems they did not think it was worth noticing. I believe there is always something to be gained in such cases by an exchange of opinions and a friendly discussion in such cases where the public in general are interested.

I am told that one reason why we have not better sidewalks is that the people in charge of the city government all have very large lots upon which they do not want to be at the expense of building walks, therefore they cannot ask their neighbors to build them. In that case the only thing we can do is work up a more enterprising public spirit among the layety, get the work started in some part of the city, create a spirit of rivalry between the different sections of the city and strive to see "who can best work and best agree." In fact I think I can see that spirit already started. Mr. Stanbury on north Baldwin avenue started the ball rolling, he has just finished a very fine cement walk in front of his premises. Dr. Groth, who, at great expense has just finished a beautiful hospital, joins Mr. Stanbury and has carried the work across his property. I am told it will be continued north to the Episcopal Church corner, where they are at work putting in a fine retaining wall, and I am told they will build a fine cement walk the full length of their lot both on Laurel and Baldwin avenues.

Quite recently the Sierra Madre Transfer Co. put in a good walk in front of their premises, and their neighbor just north of them, Mr. Farnham, built a retaining wall and put in a sidewalk that is a credit to the city and must be a joy to himself. My friend, Mr. Strickland, the chicken feeder, has just completed a fine block with a first class store for himself and one equally as good for a paint store, which is already occupied. His sidewalk will soon be completed to the margin of his lot, and he tells me that his neighbors north of him will put in walks connecting up to the beautiful Bethany Church property. We hope they will catch the spirit of rivalry by that time and put in a walk equally as good as their brethren, the Episcopalians. What street will be the next to catch the spirit of rivalry? We hope it will be Mountain Trail, for it is very much in need of it.

Hoping the good work may go on, and that the ball may keep rolling both up hill and down, is the wish of
A. BAYNE.

P.S.—Those in favor of bonding for the park site claim that if we do not buy now the land may advance in price. Supposing it does, there will be twice as many here by that time to help pay for it, and we will save the taxes and the interest on $30,000.

WONDERFUL PROGRAM GIVEN BY STARS

In justice to the many celebrities of the screen and vaudeville stage an appreciation of the mammoth performance in St. Rita's Auditorium on Tuesday, January 16th, would be but fair and should prove a pleasing souvenir to the hundreds that composed the enthusiastic audience.

To say that all were delighted would be saying very little. A big performance, unprecedented in this community, had been promised—a still bigger one was given. Many were of the opinion that twice the admission would have been charged for such an entertainment in a large city theater. As it was a benefit performance, all of the actors and artists gave their services free. It would be difficult to say which number was the best, for, to judge from the enthusiastic applause, every minute of the program was enjoyed. The performance lasted for three solid hours without a moment's intermission. Mr. Piazza, the organizer, had everything well planned with his usual clock-like precision; and when Father Woodcuter thanked all the actors at the end of the entertainment and requested Mr. Piazza to come on the stage, a tremendous ovation was given him, for his genial face had already made him the most popular man of the evening.

The following numbers were given: Berg and English, acrobats, authentic doubles for Harold Lloyd and Snub Pollard; Al Albert, the village songster; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Briggs in "The Lobby Lizard," comedy sketch; Woodland Whistling Trio, in whistling selections; Mr. Theodore Roberts, in person, the daddy of the screen; E. J. Moore, in magical nonsense; Miss Fleurette Jeffrie, a young Gali Curci; Edward Marshall, former cartoonist of the New York Evening World; Ruth Stonehouse, the dainty star of the screen; Maea and Kilduff, in "A Limb of the Law"; Eva Mudge, internationally known singing comedienne and originator of "Billy Bailey"; Frank Braidwood, young motion picture leading man; Professor Toplinsky, in deceiving the eye, a local favorite; David Roth, nationally known teacher of the Roth Memory Course to Business Men.

Theodore Roberts was particularly well received. He gave a short and interesting talk on the moving picture industry and wound up with a beautiful recitation reminiscent of the old pioneer days of California, where he has lived for over a half century. It will not seem like discrimination to mention the unstinted praise given to Miss Jeffrie's beautiful and promising voice. She is truly called the "Modern Galli Curci." Miss Ruth Stonehouse, one of the coming stars of the screen, showed wonderful skill in the histrionic profession. Her character sketches would be hard to surpass.

To sum up the rare treat given to the Sierra Madre citizens by such a galaxy of high class artists it is but necessary to repeat the question asked on all sides—"When will we have another performance like this?" The answer is "Right after Easter."

BUSINESS MEETING OF CHURCH CALLED

Members of the Congregational Church are called to attend a meeting of the organization to be held at the close of the morning service next Sunday, January 21.

The young men of the Congregational Christian Endeavor Society are entertaining the young ladies this evening in the church parlors with a dinner party. The dinner will be prepared and served by the hosts.

Friends and acquaintances of Ruth Bloodworth will be pleased to know that she has recovered from her recent illness with ptomaine poison caused from eating chop suey.

There will be a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office at 7:45 Monday evening of those who are in favor of the park bond proposition and who are willing to work for its passage. Parties interested are urged to come and not wait for a personal invitation.

Prof. and Mrs. L. S. Ham returned to their home in Long Beach on Tuesday after celebrating Prof. Ham's eightieth birthday at the home of their daughter, Mrs. E. H. Porter.

PROPELLO POPULAR

Monday morning conversation at the Sierra Madre Garage: "Fill her up with Propello." "Sorry, but you'll have to wait till the tank wagon comes. Everybody wanted Propello yesterday. They are finding out how good it is."

The popularity of Propello can be readily accounted for on the ground of quality. The Jameson Oil Co., started out to bid for trade on the basis of quality alone. They have their own wells at Santa Fe Springs which assure them a uniform grade of high quality crude oil to start with, an advantage not possessed by many independent refiners who buy their crude oil from various sources in the open market.

RESIGNS PULPIT TO GO TO OAKLAND

Rev. W. J. Thompson Accepts Call to Pastorate of Northern City Church

Members of the Congregational Church were given a surprise at the close of the Sunday morning service when Rev. W. J. Thompson presented his resignation as pastor. He asked to be relieved early in February to enable him to accept a unanimous call to Calvary Church, Oakland.

Rev. Thompson came to the Sierra Madre church a little more than three years ago from Brantford, Ont., and has won many friends not only in Sierra Madre, but throughout Southern California. His letter of resignation reviews somewhat the activities of the local church under his pastorate and is as follows:

To the Officers, Members and Friends of the First Congregational Church, Sierra Madre, Cal.

My Dear Friends and Co-Workers: For over three years it has been my great privilege to serve you as your pastor and spiritual leader. I came to you with great expectations, earnestly praying that God would enable me to be a means of spiritual blessing in the name of our Divine Redeemer. The many letters received from men and women attending this church telling of help received here, seem to suggest that my ministry has not been a failure.

To know that timid souls have found courage, that despondent minds have been uplifted, that burdened hearts have been comforted, and that those in the darkness of doubt have been led to light and certainty in Christ—this constitutes the greatest reward of any man's ministry.

In all my messages to you I have proclaimed Jesus Christ as our Divine Lord and Savior, and whatever success I have obtained here is due to His grace and guidance.

I have received over a hundred into the membership of this church; the majority on confession of faith. On the material side both church and parsonage property have been thoroughly renovated and repainted, and the reports of the recent annual meeting indicate a "flourishing condition," according to the published account.

I wish to offer my heartfelt gratitude to all those who, by their prayers and practical co-operation, have been an inspiration to me. Your wonderful kindness to myself and family will never be forgotten. I left a beautiful and historic church in Canada to come to California, and joyfully accepted the call to Sierra Madre, believing that God had led me to you. And now that same Divine Leadership has opened the way elsewhere.

I have received, and accepted, a unanimous call to Oakland, California, and therefore, announce my resignation as pastor of the First Church, Sierra Madre. I would like to begin my ministry in Oakland as early as possible in February, and trust you will grant me that favor.

In all the length of the Sierra Madre range of mountains there is no more delightful spot than this lovely city. It is with genuine regret that I resign my pastorate in this Southern California city, with its fascinating beauty and loyal friendships, but the reluctant "good bye" is joined to thankful recollection of the high privilege I have enjoyed. And now as I answer the Master's call to even greater opportunities of service, I ask you to remember me at the "Throne of Galilee"—as I will remember you in the days that are to be. Along life's highway you and I met beneath California's sky. Here learned to know each other well—in love and friendship, came to dwell. May we remain, whatever the future sends, comrades in Christ, forever loyal friends! This is my closing message, that through the coming days Sierra Madre and its people will be in my heart—always.

Affectionately,
W. J. THOMPSON.
